
TABLE OF CONTENTS - HOW WE WORK FOR PEACE: CANADIAN COMMUNITY ACTIVITIES

Send for

INTRODUCTION

7

WORKING AS A GROUP:

1. Starting a group	15
2. Attracting Members	23
3. Educating Members	33
4. Having Good Meetings	43
5. Communicating between Meetings	55
6. Building a Strong Group	65
7. Connecting with the Peace Community	79
8. Raising Money	91

REACHING THE UNCONVERTED:

9. Using Public Speaking and Print	115
10. Using the Media	129
11. Reaching People at Home and in the Neighbourhood	145
12. Reaching Young People	161
13. Reaching Members of Religious Organizations	183
14. Reaching Working People	199

PEACE ACTIVITIES:

15. Speakers, Forums and Conferences	223
16. Peace Walks and Marches	239
17. Hiroshima Commemorations	247
18. Disarmament Week and Other Annual Events	263
19. Peace Art and Entertainment	271
20. Providing Resources	281
21. Improving East-West Relations	305
22. Changing the Way We Live	317

PEACE CAMPAIGNS:

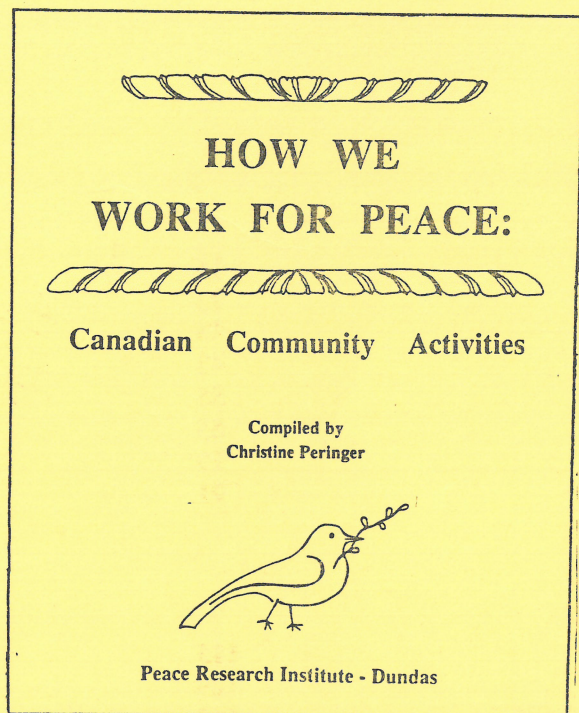

23. Influencing Politicians	329
24. Petition Campaigns	351
25. Actively Opposing Militarism	365
26. Declaring Nuclear Weapons Free Zones	383
27. Holding Disarmament Referendums	413
28. Twinning, Mundialization and Other Municipal Activities	425

29. Values From Which We Work	435
-------------------------------	-----

30. LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS AND INDEX TO THEIR CONTRIBUTIONS

447

Now into its Second Printing

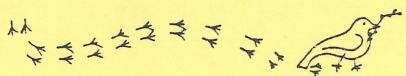

A peace action manual

made up of reports from 184 Canadian peace groups

458 pages Paper cover $15.00

(See the Table of Contents on the back of this sheet)

"This book may provide an answer to that most frequently asked question, 'What can I do?' It will certainly give inspiration and encouragement, along with practical advice to the thousands of Canadians who have already made that commitment to work for peace." Dwyne Kovacs, London Free Press

"It's a happy, chatty compendium of advice that provides fascinating glimpses of the peace movement at work."
"copiously illustrated"
"...this book offers lots of nifty ideas in an encouraging 'You-Can-Do-It-Too!' tone."
Metta Spencer, Peace Magazine

"This book is a remarkable reminder of the effort of ordinary Canadians who, in the words of one, 'are engaged in the often exhilarating process of working for peace in the world.'" Martin Zeilig, The Independent National Edition

"tremendous work" "excellent publication"
"a wide-ranging description of Canadian community activities" Douglas Roche, Ambassador for Disarmament

"It serves as a valuable source of ideas, advice and motivation for local and community based peace groups -- most ideas are transferable to the classroom or student organization" Canadian Peace Education News

Please send _____ copies of HOW WE WORK FOR PEACE at $15.00 each

Enclosed is $ _____

Name: _____

Address: _____

Published and distributed by:

Peace Research Institute - Dundas
25 Dundana Avenue
Dundas, Ontario
L9H 4E5

(416) 628-2356