

The latest cruise test disaster, coupled with its predecessor + the tragic space shuttle gives us a clear indication of the extent to which Reagan is fooling himself about the infallibility of his logic. One of these days they're going to want to test an armed cruise missile...

Reagan has dismissed Gorbachev's peace initiative and offered a small titbit in its place. He claims to want peace, but will not relinquish his pet project - SDI. Technology could easily fail us there, too.

This year the UN has declared Int. Year Peace. No better time for us to shout a resounding NO at our good neighbors across the border. NO to Norad, SDI.

The annual peace walk is scheduled for Apr. 24 - a long way off - get everyone there. We've got to give peace a chance.
