SCIENCE BUILDING UNDERWAY AT CARIBOO COLLEGE

Construction has begun on the new Science Building at Cariboo College with preliminary site preparation work already in progress and a formal sod turning which took place at 5:00 pm 28 September 1978.

The new project will cost approximately three and a half million dollars by the time it is completed and will provide an additional 38,000 square feet of college space. When completed the science building will house the University Transfer science programs including Biology, Chemistry, Physics, and Geology, as well as Medical Laboratory Technology and Nursing. The new facility will permit the College to phase out its aging laboratory portables and will provide a far better site for the delicate instrumentation needed in modern science and health programs.
