FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

An eight-member advisory committee is helping the University of British Columbia and Cariboo College make sure that the new agricultural sciences program they are undertaking in the Kamloops region continues to meet the needs of its students.

The committee has met with officials of the University's Faculty of Agricultural Sciences and will continue to work with Dr. Michael Pitt, who is stationed at the College to coordinate the various courses being made available in this area.

Members are:

Alf Bawtree, Provincial Ministry of Agriculture

Hugh Fallis, Rancher and Secretary-Treasurer of the B.C. Hereford Association.

Dr. M.R. Granger, Chairman of Physical and Life Sciences, Cariboo College

Mary McGregor, Lawyer and Vice-President of the Kamloops Stockmen's Association.

Sandy McCurrach, Agricultural Products Dealer

Dr. Alastair McLean, Agriculture Canada Research

Len Marchand, former Federal Environment Minister and a Director of the Western Indian Agricultural Corporation.

Gordon Park, Cache Creek, former president of the Canadian Cattlemen's Association.
