NEWS RELEASE #1987/9.4

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

September 25, 1987

Cariboo College, and the Kamloops Home Support Services Association are sponsoring a workshop on Creative Theatre for the Disabled on Friday and Saturday, October 16th and 17th in the Boardroom at Cariboo College. Registration fee is $55.00 which includes course materials and a lunch on Saturday. Cariboo College is wheelchair accessible.

The workshop will be conducted by Sue Lister and Catherine Caines and is intended for those in the community who are responsible for the care of elderly or physically and/or mentally challenged people as well as for disabled persons. Each registrant will participate in each of the various segments of the workshop.

Caines is currently the Artistic Director of the Presentation House Film and Theatre School as well as a UBC theatre instructor and a Theatre Terrific instructor specializing in creative drama for people with mental handicaps. Lister has directed children's theatre, managed theatre-in-education and modern dance companies and done social work with the mentally ill and elderly physically handicapped. She also works with Theatre Terrific specializing in the dramatic potential of people with physical disabilities.

For registration and further information please contact Inga Thompson, Program Coordinator in the Arts & Humanities Division at Cariboo College, 374-0123, Local 5210.
