NEWS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

January 16, 1985

Did you know that during the harvest periods of the 1920's two trains of fresh produce left Kamloops daily, one to Vancouver and one to Calgary?

The Thompson River Region produce industry could be revived once again to a competitive level.

Agriforum '85, to be held in the Cariboo College Boardroom, January 26, 1985 from 8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., will introduce you to the new alternatives in the agricultural industry. This one day symposium on agricultural production opportunities in the Thompson River Region is designed to make food production an alternative source of income.

The general objective of the symposium is to provide potential food growers with information on:

- what can be grown viably in the Thompson River Region,
- what to do to manage and finance food and crop production,
- how to market your product.

For more information and registration, please contact the Extension Services Office at Cariboo College, 374-3661 or Toll Free 112-800-482-0184.
