- What does a culture of academic integrity look like on the macro level?
 - In other words, what does it really mean for academic integrity to be a shared institutional value?
- What have been the most successful strategies you have employed to foster academic integrity?
- What lessons have you learned in the process of addressing academic integrity issues?
- What are the most significant institutional challenges we face in fostering academic integrity?
- How can we reframe our thinking about these challenges to focus on student successes?
- What do you need -- in literal terms -- to foster academic integrity? What does resourcing look like if we're taking academic integrity seriously?
